Warren Slavin Elected LifeSpan Chairman

Warren R. Slavin, President and CEO of the Hebrew Home of Greater Washington and Charles E. Smith Life Communities in Rockville, has been named Chair of LifeSpan for a two-year term.

Based in Columbia, MD, the LifeSpan Network is comprised of LifeSpan, MANPHA, The Beacon Institute and LifeSpan Products and Services. As a consolidated group, this is the largest senior care provider association in the mid-Atlantic, representing over 260 facilities in Maryland and the District of Columbia who care for over 45,000 seniors across the care spectrum.

LifeSpan members include continuing care retirement communities, nursing homes, assisted living, independent living, senior housing, hospital-based and community-based programs. The LifeSpan Network offers advocacy, training and education, timely professional information, promotion and competitively priced products to its members.

Warren Slavin has headed the Hebrew Home, the region's largest nursing home, since 1994, and has been instrumental in bringing its affiliated services together as Charles E. Smith Life Communities. His 30 years of experience in health management includes hospital, nursing home and eldercare services.
